Expert simplicity, passionately supported

At the nexus of high-tech and high-touch is eBenefits. We support human resource leaders at companies nationwide with a proprietary, cloud-based technology platform and an unmatched, uniquely personalized employee benefits experience.

Human. Resource. Technology.

A winning solution serves and supports the people who use it—not the other way around. That's why we created eBenefits—a health, wealth, and productivity platform that adapts to meet any need. Among eBenefits' features:

- Superior technological quality, backed by Six Sigma methodology
- An outstanding user experience
- Efficient and accurate EDI processes
- A simple guided workflow with single-screen administration
- A highly secure, cloud-based platform
- An easy-to-use interface for employees and employers
- Unmatched service

It's time for a change

Talent is multigenerational, mobile, and global—yet workers want to feel more connected and engaged than ever. eBenefits rises to these challenges because we are adaptive by design—meaning our platform easily changes and flexes with your company's needs. Our technology advances have the potential to resolve these and other HR challenges more efficiently:

- Engaging employees
- Increasing productivity
- Accomplishing more with less
- Meeting the needs of a mobile, geographically diverse workforce

Unlock value and elevate engagement

eBenefits will fully optimize your benefits administration processes and provide more than functional technology—we will give you a client-centric approach dedicated to superior customer service and reliable account management.

eBenefits is designed to evolve. Our modular platform allows clients to customize it to their needs as business priorities shift and technologies advance. Modules can be changed or added as needed, and software upgrades are fluidly incorporated. eBenefits' intuitive, easy-to-use interface allows HR to focus on what matters most—people—and on serving their unique needs.

As more businesses move to online benefits administration, it is increasingly important to choose a vendor who makes you feel safe. eBenefits builds in security at a foundational level, with information encryption at the individual data element.

We take client service seriously. eBenefits believes that every client, no matter how large or small, deserves proactive and responsive client service and an account management approach that exceeds expectations. Our team of experts will serve as a trusted partner to answer your questions, offer guidance in benefits administration, and inspire employee engagement and education.

These are just some of the reasons why our benefits administration earns high marks from clients. See for yourself what eBenefits can do for you, your company, and your employees. Call today to schedule a demo.
