

Meet Radish.

A radically different approach to employee health and wellness.

If you designed healthcare, things would be different. It would be convenient, seamless, proactive and effective. You'd have instant access to your trusted personal doctor at a price you can afford. They would either take care of your concern immediately, or if needed, coordinate a visit with the best specialty care available. It would be like having a doctor in the family.

QUALITY CARE MADE EASY. THAT'S RADISH.

We are radically redesigning the healthcare experience for employees and their families. Our digital-first platform and dedicated team of physicians and care guides bring together the best of sick care with the most proactive wellcare to deliver an all-in-one solution for employee health that reduces the overall cost of your plan and optimizes engagement. And with users rating us an industry-leading 4.9 out of 5 stars, we can promise you happier, healthier employees too.
