

Customize your approach to employee well-being

Why send your employees to a collection of disconnected third-party well-being resources? Instead, send them to one fully customized, mobile responsive well-being portal that looks and feels like your organization; your culture. Propel gives you a comprehensive platform to run your well-being program, recognize employees, display your benefits communication, launch unlimited challenges, unlimited surveys, polls and more!

Trusted by organizations across dozens of industries

Rolls-Royce

Fully customized from top to bottom

Your organization isn't the same as every other employer, so your portal shouldn't be either. Propel builds your portal to achieve your goals and integrate with your culture.

Unlimited well-being challenges

Create an unlimited number of custom well-being challenges for individuals, teams and groups for any length of time, over any set of activities.

Custom incentive programming

Propel can customize your incentive program structure to meet your requirements, choice of incentives and payout schedule. Run different programs for different groups of employees and pull reports at any time.

Integrated communication strategy

Propel will help you integrate multiple channels of communication into one cohesive program. Propel will even design custom communication materials at no additional cost.

sales@propelwellness.com | (615) 377-6116 | www.propelwellness.com