

The only virtual GI Center of Excellence trusted by health plans nationwide

Oshi Health is the only virtual GI clinic covered as an in-network provider through major US health plans. This means your population already has access to Oshi – with no additional contracting or fees for you.

Why this matters to you as an employer

- Quality, in-house medical care vetted by health plans’ clinical experts
- Billing through medical claims
- Seamless coordination with other in-network providers when clinically necessary
- Outcomes-based billing based on milestones and symptom control

Partnering with Oshi couldn't be easier

No contracting or implementation

Billing and eligibility is already set up since we're already an in-network provider with your health plan.

Help us to drive awareness

All we need from you is your partnership in letting your population know about Oshi.

Powerful custom reporting

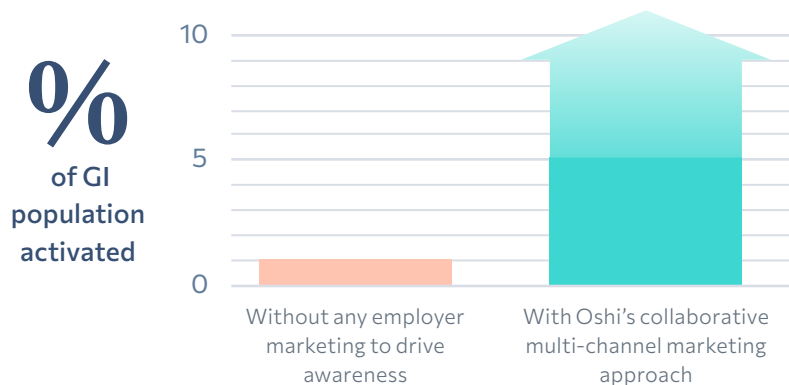

Access detailed information on everything from engagement to savings within your population.

In-network through the nation's leading health plans

Life-changing GI care is already available. Let your population know.

Partnering to drive awareness makes all the difference in engagement

Long lists of providers with long wait times and limited information are hard and frustrating to navigate and health plans are limited in their ability to elevate specific in-network providers. Most patients get bounced around the system without knowing there is a provider offering total GI care.

Our team of enrollment marketing experts make it easy, using proven turnkey programs to optimize engagement within your unique population – with little work from your teams and at no additional cost.

What you leave on the table without letting your members know about Oshi¹

Without multidisciplinary GI care	With Oshi multidisciplinary GI care
